

CITY AUDITORIUM NOW
POSITIVELY ASSUREDGOVERNMENT READY TO
CO-OPERATE IN PLAN.Priority Orders Approved, Says
War Service Read—More
Soldiers Coming.

That the auditorium will be built is now an assured fact, according to Arthur D. Albert, head of the public meetings of the war camp community service, who is in Chattanooga to attend the united war work conference. Mr. Albert informed a News reporter Tuesday night that the priority orders for the soldiers' clubrooms and municipal auditorium had been approved and that the government officials were willing to co-operate in every way possible with the officials of Chattanooga in speeding up the work.

This building is going to be badly needed in a short time, for there are more soldiers coming to Oglethorpe, according to Mr. Albert's statements, though he said that he was not in a position to divulge the exact number of men that are to be sent here.

BUCKED POWERS AND
HENCE LOSES HIS JOBT. P. McMahon Succeeded as Deputy U. S. Marshal by Fred W. Hill.

Former Chief of Police Fred W. Hill was Wednesday afternoon appointed deputy United States marshal to succeed T. P. McMahon, resigned. Mr. McMahon's resignation followed a conference he had with the United States marshal, J. R. Thompson, who was in town yesterday. The change was made known during the afternoon. The duties which Mr. Hill has been appointed to are in no sense new to him, he having many years ago served as deputy marshal. During his regime as deputy marshal Mr. Hill did some valuable work among the moonshiners and other federal law violators and many are the exciting and blood-thrilling incidents he can now relate of those days when the moonshiner was king of the mountains.

After serving as marshal Mr. Hill joined the police force and through his conscientious work and absolute fearlessness he arose to chief of the department, which office he held for seventeen years. It was largely due to Chief Hill that gambling became foreign to the corporate limits of the city of Chattanooga. He has always been at all times a vigorous law enforcer and when he left the police department Judge McReynolds, recognizing his ability, appointed him criminal court officer, which position he has held until his appointment yesterday.

HOME NEWS

Send Newspapers to Soldiers at the Front to Keep Them in Touch with the Folks Over Here.

"More home newspapers is the most heart appeal from the American soldier in the camps and hospitals in Great Britain and France." Says a report of the American Red Cross just published. The Red Cross is supplying reading matter for the boys in the trenches. The supply of home newspapers is very limited and it is continually being replenished from home.

"THE CRY IS CONTINUALLY
FOR THE NEWSPAPER
FROM HOME"

THIS is what the Red Cross people report about American boys with Pershing, and in training camps everywhere. THE NEWS will be sent to any soldier or sailor at the following rates: Six months, $2.15; twelve months, $4.00.

The resignation of Mr. McMahon is the confirmation of a rumor that has been about since the senatorial race in which Mr. McMahon was a candidate for the democratic nomination. It was said then that his holding the powers that would cost him his position, and yesterday the fact which Mr. McMahon opposed forced his resignation. Other incidents in connection with the office are supposed to have had some little bearing on the resignation of the deputy marshal. Mr. McMahon, like his successor, is also a former chief of police.

CONNER FAVORS A
SEPARATE LIGHT PLANTNew Judge Finds Wastage of Electricity in Lighting
Bridges.

County Judge Sam A. Conner stated Wednesday that he favored a separate lighting plant for the county and would, when he became more familiar with a plan, advise a feasible idea regarding one. He further said, "on posts running along the sides of the bridge there are lights on each side and they are placed in such a way that one-half of the light from the globes is thrown on the river below the bridge." He further stated that this is a waste of light and is costing the taxpayers money that they should not have to pay. Another thing I understand the lights on the bridges are being turned on in the evening and left burning until 7 and 8 o'clock in the morning. Each of the bridges has a watchman and one watchman for both bridges is enough and I shall only have one. I do not know yet who it will be but I shall have some reasonable and capable man as bridge watchman."

The judge in discussing other reduction of expenses stated that the janitor hire at the courthouse was too much and some reduction would be made. He further stated that while he had not gone into the matter thoroughly, he thought one superintendent was sufficient for workhouse and the roads and some changes would be made. He discussed other changes he was likely to make but asked that publicity be withheld at present regarding them.

BANNER FOR SCHOOL

Knoxville Oct. 31.

Supt. C. H. Winder, of the city schools, is calling the attention of the teachers of the counties of the East Tennessee Educational Association at Knoxville, Oct. 31 to Nov. 2.

The counties of East Tennessee are divided into four zones for the awarding of the banners. The banner will be given to the county which has the largest attendance, figured on a percentage basis. The full program of the meeting has not yet been worked out, but will be mailed to the local superintendent by Prof. D. S. Burleson, secretary of the educational association, as soon as it is complete. Mr. Winder is especially anxious that as many of the teachers as possible attend this meeting.

CONTACT RE-ESTABLISHED

Russ Embassy at Washington
Hears From New Power.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Contact has been established by the Russian embassy in the United States with the governments in northern Russia and Siberia and Ambassador Bakhmeteff, long ago repudiated the Bolshevik regime, recognized by the government as the official representative of the Russian people in the United States, and the new government, which is co-operating with American and allied forces, therefore has a spokesman in Washington.

The embassy's dispatch, signed by Nicholas Tschakovsky, president of the government of northern Russia, follows: "Archangel, Aug. 21.—In the region of northern Russia the yoke of the Bolsheviks is thrown off. In accord with the allies the government of the region of northern Russia, recognizing the peace treaty of Brest-Litovsk, has set as its aim the expulsion of the Germans out of the boundaries of Russia and the creation of a new and undivided Russia. Owing to the initiative of the League of Regeneration of Russia, composed of representatives of all political parties, except the extreme ones, the government of the region of northern Russia was formed by delegates of the northern provinces to the northern constitutional assembly and representatives of the zemstvos and towns of the region. The municipalities of judicial boards are constituted. The Russian army is again created and on the basis of discipline. The allies are aiding us. Villagers have been declared in the northern region. Desiring to secure real liberty and a democratic regime, the government of northern Russia, joining hands with other regional governments, has as a final aim the formation of a single government for the whole of Russia, based on universal suffrage. The government of northern Russia appeals to all Russian citizens to rally around the banner of salvation of their native country of liberties gained and the rebirth of Russia.

"NICHOLAS TSCHAKOVSKY, President of the Government of Northern Russia."

WORK OF RECLAIMING WOUNDED
GOES ON AT FORT M'PHERSONPatients All Jolly and Industrious—Knitting Gaudy
Colored Sweaters for Loved Ones—Make Artificial Limbs for Wounded Comrades, Toys for Kiddies and Learn Mechanical Trades and Farming.

Hundreds of American soldiers are being nursed back to health in Uncle Sam's big general hospital, number 6, at Fort McPherson, Ga., near Atlanta. They are also being taught many different trades in the "curry" classes established. This department is known as the reconstruction division where patients of the hospital who desire to improve themselves by taking advantage of opportunities offered them may do so. These classes are not only made up of soldier boys from the various camps in the United States, who have become seriously ill while in the army and sent to this hospital for special medical attention, but there are also large numbers of wounded soldiers who have been returned from the front who are unable to attend the classes sit up in their beds with their heads propped up with pillows, and sometimes bandaged, knitting on bright pink yarn, smiling though the white bandages, began in proud way. "I'm knitting a sweater for my sister now, and I know she will like it because pink is her favorite color." He told the visitor that he had finished one already and was very proud of it and had sent them home. Another young man who had been on the other side, glanced towards the visitor and held his knitting up in plain view and remarked that while he was just learning he was very proud of it and was trying to make a sweater for his little girl.

Learning New Trades. Passing on to the different class rooms in the large American hospital the visitor was shown class after class of boys who had joined the colors, engaged in making sweaters with their hands, and learning different trades such as carpentry, furniture repairing, press work, etc. Some were making willow baskets, and others were weaving rag rugs and silk pillow tops. When the visitor entered into the shop where such toys as wooden birds and fishes are made, one of the boys came running over to the door and invited the reporter to see a big red rooster which he had just finished. He remarked that while he had the dirtiest job of all he liked it.

The reconstruction work is in charge of Maj. John L. Riley, army surgeon, who is assisted by the department at Washington to take charge of this work. Col. T. S. Bratten, commander at Fort McPherson, is interested in the work in a personal way and answers each letter from mothers of the boys inquiring after the health of their sons. He said that Uncle Sam is a fine doctor.

Mechanical Training. One of the most interesting incidents noticed in general hospital No. 6 was in the "curry" class of gasoline engine, automobile repairing and assembling. This work was taught by the new building which was a member of the aviation corps before falling from a plane and losing his right eye. He has not been hit by the enemy which he loved and was standing there before others who would probably have a chance to see more service in the future learning the different parts of an automobile.

CLEAR GEORGIA SKIES
GREET PRIMARY VOTERSCHIEF INTEREST CENTERS
SENATORIAL CONTEST.Loyalty and Fight for Control Party Machines Issues in Illinois Elections.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 11.—Clear skies greeted the voters of Georgia today as they went to the polls in the democratic primary. The United States senator, choose candidates, eight congressional districts where seats of the incumbents are contested, and name candidates who will fill many state offices during the next two years, including Gov. Dorey, who is unopposed.

Chief interest in the election centers in the contest for the United States senate, because of the expected support by President Wilson given William J. Harris, former chairman of the federal trade commission, who is a candidate to succeed Senator Hardwick. In addition to Governor Harris and Howard claiming Hardwick has not supported war measures. John R. Cooper, Macon lawyer, and Emmet Shaw, former state senator, are in the race.

Considerable interest attaches to the race in the Tenth congressional district, where Carl Vinson, incumbent, is opposed by Thomas E. Watson. The campaign in this district has been pitched on the question of loyalty to the administration. A weekly newspaper published by Watson has been barred from the mails by the postal authorities since the United States entered the war because of its alleged disloyal utterances. Watson, throughout his campaign, however, denied that he had any intention of going to Washington to hamper the work of bringing the war to a successful end.

McCormick vs. Thompson. Chicago, Sept. 11.—A fight for control of the party machines are the issues in practically every contest between candidates and factions to be decided at the Illinois state primary election today, at which political parties will nominate candidates for United States senator, state treasurer, state superintendent of public instruction, congressmen, members of the general assembly and various county offices. The principal contest is between Congressman Medill McCormick, Congressman George E. Foss and Mayor William H. Thompson, of Chicago, for the republican nomination for United States senator, with McCormick and Foss made their campaigns on their patriotic records, while Mayor Thompson was accused of numerous antiwar activities. Mayor Thompson in his campaign used as a slogan the phrase "America first" and proclaimed his loyalty.

Senator James Hamilton Lewis is unopposed for the democratic nomination for United States senator. In the Ninth congressional district, Representative Fred A. Britten's war record was criticized by his opponent, Fletcher Dobyns, candidate on the republican ticket.

Enter Second Primary. New Orleans, Sept. 11.—Edward J. Gay, of Louisiana, and Governor Gay, of Louisiana, will have to enter a second primary to decide who will serve out the unexpired term of the late United States senator, Robert E. Broussard, according to late returns from yesterday's democratic primary. Gay was leading Hall by 10,000 votes and was more than 15,000 ahead of John L. Overton, of Alexandria.

Incumbent Re-elected. Jackson, Miss., Sept. 11.—Fairly complete returns received here this morning indicate that E. S. Candier, incumbent, was re-elected congressman from the First Mississippi district in the second primary which was held yesterday. He has a safe lead over his opponent, John Rankin, of Tupelo.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This is not only one of the best and most efficient medicines for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, but is also pleasant to take, which is important when a medicine must be given to young children. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been in use for many years and has met with much favor wherever its good qualities have become known. Many mothers have given it their unqualified endorsement. Wm. Scruby, Chillicothe, Mo., writes, "I have raised three children, have always used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and found it to be the best for coughs, colds and croup. It is pleasant to take. Both adults and children like it. My wife and I have always felt safe from croup with it in the house." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy contains no opium or other narcotic. (Adv.)

TINKER SLATED FOR BACK TAX COLLECTOREugene Bryan, Present Holder of Office, Concedes Election of Republican Candidate.

There is little or no interest in the race for the office of delinquent poll tax collector at present. Eugene Bryan, present holder of the office, announced he would like the plan. Eugene Bryan, present delinquent poll tax collector, stated Wednesday that it was all over but the shouting and Mr. Tinker was practically delinquent poll tax collector at present. There were a number of democratic and republican candidates for this office which pays about $2,500 or $4,000 a year but when Mr. Tinker entered it was all over but the shouting and he was left alone with his hat in the ring. He will be elected to the office at the meeting of the county court the first Monday in October. The duties of the office will not require Mr. Tinker to resign as deputy in the office of Register Willard J. Springfield.

JUSTICES MAY BE FORCED TO CLOSE SHOPUnable to Get Officers to Wait on Court Makes Business Unprofitable.

There was a rumor about the courthouse Wednesday to the effect that Squires Frank Wells and C. Z. Taylor, who recently formed a partnership, are ready to quit and close their offices. The justices are of course not going to resign from the court, but only close their offices if they decide to take any steps. It is said the inability to get deputies and the absence of business is the cause of the two justices debating the idea of closing their newly opened offices. It was learned Wednesday that Squires Taylor and Wells were making an effort to dispose of their business to Squire H. B. Cauley. The business was recently sold to Squires Wells and Taylor by Squire H. H. Eggar.

MAY BE NO CHANGE
IN HIGHWAY CLERKSHIPD. F. Beckham Still Holding Down Job—Commission Prac tically Out of Business.

There seems to be little likelihood that there will at the present be any change in the position of clerk to the Hamilton County Highway commission. The highway commission has practically gone out of business, two of its members, Frank Spurlock and W. A. Sadd, having resigned, and these vacancies cannot be filled until the meeting of the county court the first Monday in October. For the meantime D. F. Beckham is still serving as clerk despite the fact the road commission some time ago elected Judge J. B. Ragon to succeed Mr. Beckham who had been appointed clerk clerk to county Judge Sam A. Conner. However, the appointment of Mr. Beckham and the election of Judge Ragon did not seem to materialize and the affairs of the road commission are still being attended to by Mr. Beckham. It is understood that a large amount of money the road commission is consuming in its operation is the cause for the hitch in the changes. Judge Conner stated Wednesday that was taking over $400 a month for the road commission to operate and this was outrageous. He said the salary list would be cut down and the office would only have one clerk instead of two if he found it could be operated with one.

JUNIOR CIVIC LEAGUE

Library to Be Established.

The initial fall meeting of the Junior Civic League was held Tuesday evening at Junior High school and was in the nature of a banquet. Fifty men were present. The dinner was served in the dining room under the direction of Miss Pearl Haley, teacher of domestic science, assisted by a number of girls of the department. A. E. Merriam, president of the league, presided.

Mayor Jesse M. Littleton, Supt. C. M. Winder and T. R. Preston were honor guests. Mayor Littleton spoke on "The Activities of the School and Its Value to the Community." Supt. Winder told of the "Success of Junior High School." Mr. Preston offered $75 to be given as prizes to the pupils showing the greatest efficiency during the year.

Leads Gov. Bilbo. Hattiesburg, Miss., Sept. 11.—With returns received from every county in the district, Judge Paul B. Johnson leads Gov. Theo. G. Bilbo by about 4,000 votes in the race for congress in the Sixth district of Mississippi. The total vote, with only about 600 votes in scattering boxes outstanding, is as follows: Johnson, 9,241; Bilbo, 5,262. Bilbo carried one county in the district, being Pearl River, his home county.

Predict Further Increase. Columbia, S. C., Sept. 11.—Belated reports today from the second democratic primary served only to increase the majority of William P. Pollock of Cheraw, over his opponent, Atty.-Gen. Thomas S. Peoples, for the short term in the United States senate. Mr. Pollock today had a lead of more than 15,000 votes, with indications of a further increase. On the face of the returns, with twenty-seven precincts missing, Congressman Sam J. Nicholls, of the Fourth district, has a lead of something over 300 votes over his opponent, Horace L. Roman.
